Thank you for requesting a TWO WEEK FREE TRIAL

my LawFirm Live puts an interactive, live operator on your site to answer questions in a prompt, courteous, dynamic way -- the way you would if you had the time and resources to divert from the daily workload.

People are more likely to trust good listeners. That's what my LawFirm Live is about. We listen to and communicate with virtual visitors that you would never have heard from. People looking for information or answers on your website seldom call unless they're invited to do so, or better yet are engaged by a friendly operator that wants to point them in the right direction.

So even whether you're in court, in a meeting, or drafting a brief, my LawFirm Live is on the job turning visitors into prospects and prospects into clients.©

After your TWO WEEK FREE TRIAL you'll be able to continue at a monthly subscription rate that varies based on number of contacts you want us to greet. Would you like us to answer questions from 10 visitors per month? 20? 50? It's up to you.

Let's get started so you'll see what we mean.

Step (2) Service Options

We use novel technology to monitor your site with our trained operators. When a visitor comes by we take the first step to engaging the visitor and turning them into a prospect. Our goal is to get the visitor to make a call to your office or set up an appointment for further information. We collect visitor contact information with their consent and send it on to you for action. The whole process can be done within minutes, leaving your office free to set up the appointment or even take a call directly from the prospect.

Our Service has two installation options: (check one)
